

IGQ GOLF COLLEGE

Tailor-Made Programmes

◆ New Zealand Primary and High School Study and Research Camp

Project Introduction:

This project is designed for students to utilize their winter and summer vacation time by transferring to local primary and secondary schools in New Zealand. Here, they will experience life in the same grade classes as local students. Participants will gain insight into different education modes of China and the West, understand local customs, improve their English communication skills, broaden their international perspective, and experience life as international students.

Learning Content and Form:

In addition to core subjects such as English, mathematics, and science, the schools offer courses in music, painting, design, outdoor sports, and handicrafts. These courses are aimed at cultivating students' interests, talents, and independent innovation abilities. Upon entering the class, each student will be paired with a local peer to help them quickly integrate into English learning and daily life, fostering new friendships.

Project Benefits:

- 1. Integration into Real Classes: Students will join a local key school, learning and interacting with local students in an immersive English environment, experiencing the life of studying abroad.
- 2. Host Family Stay: Living with the families of classmates, students will perceive local family life and understand different customs and traditions.
- 3. Peer Pairing: Each student will be paired one-on-one with a school classmate, making new international friends and quickly integrating into classroom learning and family life.

4. Full English Immersion: A 24-hour English learning and living environment will rapidly improve students' English communication skills.

5. Experience Different Education Modes: Students will experience the joyful education mode of New Zealand, enhancing their learning interest and innovation abilities.

6. Rich Extracurricular Activities: Activities include visits to famous schools, city sightseeing, ranch culture experiences, and unique outdoor sports, providing a rich and colorful study tour experience.

7. Micro Study Abroad Experience: By traveling and experiencing life abroad, students will broaden their international vision and see the world beyond their home country.

◆ New Zealand English and Golf Study and Research Programmes

Target Audience:

Young golfers who are interested in utilizing their summer or winter holidays to participate in short-term golf training and English learning at the New Zealand IGQ Golf College, aiming to enhance their golf skills and English communication abilities.

Program Introduction:

This program is designed for young golf enthusiasts with a foundational skill level to attend the New Zealand IGQ Golf College during their winter or summer vacations. The program offers an opportunity to leverage New Zealand's top-notch courses and coaching resources for short-term intensive golf training combined with English learning. Participants will rapidly improve their golf skills and English proficiency while experiencing the different educational approaches of China and the West, and gaining insight into life as an international student.

Learning Content and Format:

- English Classes: Conducted by local New Zealand teachers holding ESOL certifications.
- Golf Training: Provided by New Zealand AAA professional golf coaches.
- Daily Practice: Students engage in daily 9-18 hole training sessions.
- Weekly Reviews: Regular summaries and assessments to monitor progress and adjust learning plans accordingly, ensuring effective improvements in a short time.

Program Benefits:

- English Improvement: Daily lessons with certified ESOL teachers from New Zealand to enhance English communication skills.

- Golf Skill Enhancement: Daily training with New Zealand PGA professional coaches and playing 9-18 holes on different courses to quickly advance golf skills.
- Competition Experience: Participation in weekly competitions to gain experience and develop a competitive mindset.
- Cultural Immersion: A 24-hour English-speaking environment to rapidly improve communication skills and broaden international perspectives.
- Extracurricular Activities: Visits to renowned schools, outdoor adventures, ranch culture experiences, city sightseeing, and more, providing a vibrant and diverse study experience.

◆ Overseas Study Program for College Students

With the deepening of globalization, more and more college students choose to use their holidays to go overseas for short-term study to improve their professional skills and English proficiency. New Zealand, as a popular study destination, attracts many college students with its rich educational resources and unique cultural environment.

Use Vacation Time to Improve Professional Skills

College students use their holidays to attend short-term professional courses at universities in New Zealand. This not only helps them enhance their professional knowledge but also allows them to transfer the credits earned back to their home universities, reducing their academic burden. New Zealand's universities are internationally leading in many specialized fields, providing students with an excellent learning platform.

Improve English Proficiency

While studying in New Zealand, students are fully immersed in an English-speaking environment, significantly improving their English skills. Whether it is professional English used in the classroom or conversational English used in daily life, students have the opportunity to enhance their language abilities comprehensively. This is highly beneficial for their future academic research and career development.

Broaden International Horizons

The multicultural environment of New Zealand universities gives students the opportunity to study and interact with classmates from around the world. This helps them understand different cultural backgrounds and learning styles, and teaches them how to communicate and collaborate effectively with people from diverse cultures.

Experience Different Learning and Research Methods

The teaching and research methods in New Zealand universities differ from those in their home countries. Through firsthand experience, students can appreciate different educational models and develop more independent learning and research abilities. This experience will have a profound impact on their future academic and professional careers.

Understand Different Development Directions in the Same Profession

By participating in overseas study programs, students can learn about the development directions and cutting-edge trends in their field of study in different countries. This not only broadens their horizons but also inspires their enthusiasm for professional learning and exploration.

Participate in Innovation and Entrepreneurship Courses to Find Employment Opportunities

New Zealand is renowned for its innovative spirit and entrepreneurial atmosphere. Many universities offer specialized innovation and entrepreneurship courses. Students can learn advanced entrepreneurial ideas and practices, and through project collaboration and internship opportunities, they can gain exposure to real business environments and even find future employment opportunities.

Conclusion

IGQ Golf College is working closely with the local universities. The overseas study program provides a comprehensive platform for students to improve themselves. They achieve not only academic success but also significant progress in cultural communication, language ability, innovative thinking, and career planning. This experience will undoubtedly inject new impetus and vitality into their future development.

For more information contact

info@igqgolfcollege.com

www.igqgolfcollege.com

